It's important to think about what you want to say before you deliver your elevator pitch. Use the space below to brainstorm answers to the following questions to prepare some possible ideas for your elevator pitch.

Tell me about yourself:

What matters to you? _____

What are you good at? _____

What can you offer a potential employer? _____

What interests you? _____

What do you want to be remembered for doing? _____

If you asked a friend, how would he or she describe you? _____

What is one thing people should know about you? _____

Imagine your dream job:

What types of tasks or projects are you doing? _____

Where are you working? _____

Who or what are you working with? _____

What is your job title? _____

Using your responses to some of the questions above, pretend that a friend's parent has offered to talk to you about career opportunities. Use the space below to craft the elevator pitch you would share with them. Remember to include the following information: Your name, what your dream job is and why it is your dream job, and skills or interests that you have that will contribute to your success in the job.
